Howard-I did do research on what the IRS would accept as FMV short of doing an appraisal. Rejected offers by the seller alone is not good enough since presumably they feel its worth more and they are holding out for a higher offer. This is substantiated by the fact that the list price is generally higher and I think Satoshi is going to provide us with this. Once we get the list price, FMV is somewhere in between and this is where if Colliers can provide us with other supporting data, we could probably determine a reasonable value. The FMV issue is greater if SSH is sold to a Kinoshita group since related as opposed to an unrelated third party. The one thing I was curious about is if Frank finds a unrelated buyer, do they owe Colliers a commission.

Based on the information provided by client, what do you think of the following FMVs?

- Mililani Golf Course: $8M
- Pukalani (all property): $8M
- Kiahuna (all property): $7.5M
- Ocean Resort Hotel: $8M (lease hold property)

All of the proposals are post September 11

Doug,

As you know, Kent Smith withdrew his offer for Pukalani today (please see letter of withdrawal for further reasons).

I think it is important that we step back at this time and take a hard look at where we are in terms of interest on the courses. At this time we have the Ron Allred offers and the offer from Moshe Silagi.

Both of these parties are financially capable of closing the transactions and neither is dependant on other sources of funding. Allred recently sold his entire interest in Telluride ski resort to Morita family (Sony). He has the cash, but you kshould know that he is looking at many properties and if we do not reach a deal quickly, he will go somewhere else with his money.

Pukalani Country Club:

Allred has submitted an offer on Pukalani of $8,000,000.00 cash no contingencies, no financing requirement and a closing date of December 17th.

Kiahuna Country Club:

Allred has submitted a $3,000,000.00 offer for the golf course and the 9-hole expansion parcel.

Moshe Silagi has submitted a $5,000,000.00 offer for all other development parcels, but no golf course parcels

Mililani Country Club:

Allred has submitted an $8,000,000.00 contingent offer subject to due diligence on Mililani Country Club.

Total consideration offered at this time for all courses and all the development lands is $24,000,000.00.

The price for Mililani is a guess on his behalf, because he has not seen current financials. As we have been discussing, there are virtually no other golf course buyers in the marketplace at this time. This may be our only remaining opportunity to close quickly and I beleive we should seriously consider this fact because economically, next year is going to be a very tough year for Hawaii companies.

I believe we need to take these offers seriously.
